Challenges: Summer is typically a slower time for us but as September has started things have started to get busier. We seeing more women who are in challenging situations that are concerned they may be pregnant. Most of these women were not pregnant so we helped them find the social services they needed but due to the fact they are not pregnant we cannot count them in the grant.

Comments: A client came in with her boyfriend on the way home from the hospital to show us their baby. They both reported that they felt very prepared during the labor and delivery process and taking care of their newborn baby because of the education that they got while attending our prenatal classes.
